

Dr. Ambedkar College, Deekshabhoomi, Nagpur. Webinar for Faculty

Topic: "ONLINE CLASSES ESSENTIALS" Organized by

Internal Quality and Assurance Cell (IQAC)

Date: 13th August 2020 REPORT

In these difficult time of COVID 19 pandemic it became necessary to conduct online classes in higher education institutes ensuring quality learning of students. To conduct online lectures the faculty of the institutes must be trained and enabled with ICT Tools. With this aim in mind the IQAC of Dr. Ambedkar College, Deekshabhoomi, Nagpur organized a webinar for faculties on topic "Online Classes Essentials". The webinar begin with the general welcome of the Principal, Resource person and faculties by IQAC Coordinator of College Dr. Hema Menon followed by National Anthem. Dr. Menon introduced the audience about the necessity of the webinar by pointing out the difficult situation of inability of students to attend college due to present pandemic. To continue the process of teaching and learning in college, adopting the ICT based teaching became indispensable tool for every teachers and students. She also pointed out that there are specific tools which can make online learning effective but at the same time several difficulties and questions arises while using them. To solve these difficulties the program was organized.

Dr. Mrs. P. M. Siriya Principal of Dr. Ambedkar College presented the welcome address. She gave brief introduction of college and highlighted nature and context of the webinar. She welcomed the resource person of the webinar Dr. Mrs. Anjali Sardesai and press on the urgency of online teaching in present situation. Dr. Hema Menon gave brief introduction of the Dr. Anjali Sardesai IQAC coordinator and Head of department of Computer Science and Animation, Modern College, Pune and requested her to proceed with her talk.

Dr. Sardesai began her talk by stating current circumstances and compulsion of conducting online lectures while pointing out the great paradigm shift in teaching methodology. She preferred practical approach to introduce the freely available ICT tools for development of e-content, storing the e content, distributing the e content and conduction of online lectures. She informed the teachers about the perks of G suite account and how it will be helpful for the institute as well as teachers. In the first part of her talk she demonstrated that how teachers can store the e-content on Google drive and/ or YouTube so that students can have access to the content easily. She emphasized that all these services are free of cost and easy to use with just a Gmail account. Following this she demonstrated the use of DU recorder a freely available screen recording software for recording online lecture and development of e content. She informed about the different type of e contents which can be shared with students. She also solved the queries from the teachers regarding the recording of lectures during her talk. She pointed out that for recording lecture using simple mobile cameras are enough and can work much better than costly DSLR cameras if aided with mobile apps like Open Camera. For conducting the online live lectures Dr. Sardesai demonstrated the use of Google Meet. She also showed how lectures can be scheduled on Google Meet and invitation can be sent to students using Google Calendar. She also demonstrated the use of extension apps for recording attendance in Google Meet. At the end of her talk Dr. Sardesai explained the functioning of the OpenShot Video editor software in detail.

The demonstrations of freely available ICT tools by Dr. Anjali Sardesai was well received by the faculty and many of their queries and difficulties were solve by her. The program was concluded with the formal vote of thanks by Ms. Priti Sing, Assitant Professor, Department of English, Dr. Ambedkar College.

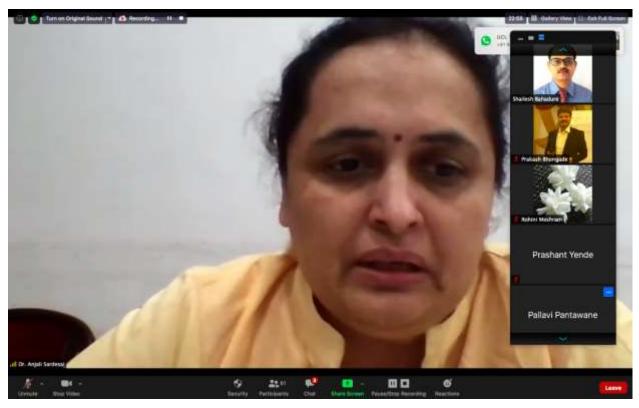

For seamless operation of all the digital services throughout the webinar, the technical expertise was obtained from Mr. Nishit Jain and Mr. Sachin Ramteke from Tristar Software solutions.
