Vol. XIV April 2016 - Issue 2 A Newsletter of Dr. Ambedkar College, Deekshabhoomi, Nagpur

From the Editor's Desk.....

'Be Educated, Be Organised and Be Agitated' said Dr. Ambedkar once while addressing the youths of this nation. It is after seven decades of democratic rule in this country we find that only education has been the right and most appropriate mechanism for elevation of one's life. This institution has put in all possible and the best efforts to educate masses from the cross sections of society. Being situated at a globally known place 'Deekshabhoomi', students are given and directed for suitable lines following which they have chosen the correct path of their career too. The institution has various stories where a 'common' is transformed into the 'uncommon' and we place ourselves highly on such rankings. The mettle of the institutional practices has proved that a focused attitude towards education can only lead the youths towards an unforgettable journey of paramount life. The new session has brought us challenges to show and confirm that we are an incomparable group, a family that believes in values of social importance and national integrity. We are striving and successful for establishing those moral values which are needed at this hour. It is a happy occasion to note here that students have contributed much to continue shining with the glory they are awarded. This issue represents a proof that they all had a fair chance to see their dreams realized with DACN.
