GUEST LECTURE 01 AUGUST 09, 2018

Department of Zoology in collaboration with Chemistry & Botany organized a guest lecture. The guest was Dr. Nishikant Wase former lecturer from DACN but presently working as assisting faculty in Nebraska University, USA.

Dr. Wase deliver a lecture on "Lipid Induction by Nitrogen Starvation". He discussed his research on production of lipids using algae as natural synthesizer. The prices of oil are increasing every year due to population explosion limited resources. To reduce the prices of resources, either population has to be controlled or the quantity of resources must be increased.
