Department of English AND Alumni Association of DACN jointly organised a programme on 'CAREERS IN JOURNALISM' via Google Meet platform on 19 November, 2022 at 11 am. The resource person for the programme was Mr. Ajit Andhare, News editor, The Hitavada, Hyderabad and an alumni of the college.

The main objective of the programme is to inform, educate and explore the facts and to provide students with the information they need to make the best possible decisions about their lives, their communities, their societies, and their governments.

Dr. Mrs B. R. Mehere, Principal, Dr Ambedkar College, Deekshabhoomi, Nagpur while addressing the students, said that a journalist's job includes extensive news collection and fact-checking, both of which should result in a qualitative shift in society. To choose a career in journalism, students can study mass communication or journalism in nation building. She further added that Journalism is also a highly competitive field, one that gives the opportunity to work for newspapers or magazines. She congratulated the members of the department for taking up such a fine topic for deliberation.

Dr. Shailesh Bahadure, Head of the Department of English in his talk said a student has a passion for career but beyond career there is also passion for a particular job. With this motive, the Department of English in now planning to provide more skill based knowledge by providing skill based training sessions. Further, he said that the field of journalism and mass communication has opened a plethora of career opportunities and mould students to become creative. Lastly he said the work of journalist is very intricate as he has to provide the true stories to the society and the world at large.

Mr. Ajit Andhare, in his informative speech said that a career in journalism is full of excitement and responsibility. As a journalist, you can't miss the details because that only gives insight into the story. Depending on these findings, journalists write news-items. A journalist's career can be stressful at times, but if journalism is your passion, this is the right choice for you. If you want to learn more about the media field and careers in journalism start reading, have a good command on communication, and excel with the help of courses available for journalism.

Further, he discussed available career opportunities in journalism like newspapers, Magazines, TV channels, websites, P R Agencies and advertising agencies, publishing house and there are good number of journalists they have made their good career in politics as well as personal secretaries and media advisor to any political leaders.

At the end of the session, several students asked questions which were very well answered by the resource person. Participants gained a wide range of knowledge on how to proceed with their career in journalism.

The programme was very well conducted by Ms. Ganga Pal, Student of MA English third semester and the vote of thanks was proposed by Ms. Shalaka Paturkar, student of MA English third semester. On this occasion, Dr Mrs Preeti Singh, Dr. Anita Tirpude, Mr. Manoj Andraskar, Dr. Rupali Bhave, Mr. Shreeyash Kokate, Mr. Dilip Rathod, Mr. Yogesh Chaudhari, Mr. Lav Chauhan, Ms. Uzama Khan, Mr. Sandesh Sahare along with the undergraduate and postgraduates students were present.
