Report

The Inaugural function of 'Better English Association'- Study forum of Department of English was organized on 07th December 2021.

Dr. Mrs B. A. Mehere. Principal, Dr Ambedkar College, Nagpur formally inaugurated the programme and congratulated to the department for taking initiative to organize a talk on such an apt topic and emphasized the need of effective communication skill to equip the students for exploring employment opportunities. She also said such lectures for students are necessary to develop their competency in achieving their career goals

It was followed by an impressive talk by the Chief Guest of the program Prof. Mrs. Suchita Marathe, Vice Principal & Head, Department of English, SMT. Binzani Mahila Mahavidyalay, Nagpur. She delivered her speech on 'Improving Communication Skills in English'. While addressing the students, Dr. Suchita said, that improving communication in English is very important as this can be highly rewarding and being able to communicate more effectively will help everyone to build stronger relationship with the people around us and get our ideas across successfully. As she stated, communication is a two way process in which both the sender and receiver are equally important. Further she explained the how process of effective communication can be delivered through offline and online mode. She stressed upon the importance of overall skill development to avoid ambiguities in communication. She stressed that if an individual wants to develop communication skills, one must 'Practice, Practice and Practice' this the key for the success. Talking on the barriers of communication she suggested one must learn to talk to people to whom they disagree with and also hearing what is not said. In her concluding note she said that communication is a continuous process and one must continue to learn the different languages, it has no beginning and no end either.

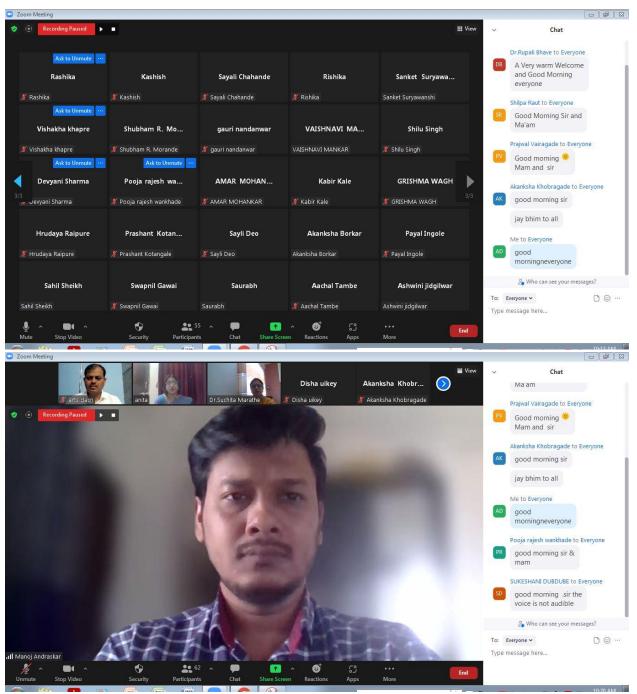

Dr. Shailesh Bhadure, Head, Department of English in his introductory remarks expressed his views on skills of communication and facilities available in the college for students. He also highlighted different activities conducted by the department. At the concluding part of the programme the highly motivated students placed a variety of questions to the speaker to which she answered with unwavering enthusiasm. The Program was compered by Ms Anita Tirpude (Assistant Professor, DoE, DACN) while Mr. Manoj Andraskar (Assistant Professor, DoE, DACN) proposed a formal vote of thanks. Ms. Rupali Bhave, Ms. Devayani Sharma, Mr. Dilip Rathor and Mr. Shreyas Kokate and other faculty members were present on this occasion. Overall it was an interactive session and more than 60 students were present.
