Dr. Mrs. B. A. Mehere, Principal of the college extended warm welcome to the resource person and congratulated organisers for the activity under academic MoU. She said that activities based on the novel ideas and genres are need of the hour so far as syllabus of the courses undergoing changes these days.

Ms. Sanhita, in her address talked about the preliminaries of creativity. She said that being creative is not a special feature; everyone from childhood is creative but the one who sustains it with the growing age actually nourishes the specialty. This helps someone to become a writer also. We should start scripting simple events in life and not necessarily to be a part of writing as a career. The joy of writing subsequently leads you to a professional writer and one gets enough subjects to write upon many things around. Every little piece of writing is a part of creativity.

A question answer session followed the lecture by resource person.

Dr. Shailesh Bahadure, Head, Department of English, DACN shared his views to the gathering. Dr. Sunil Ramteke compered the session and proposed a formal vote of thanks.
