The Department of Biochemistry and Biotechnology, Dr. Ambedkar College, Deekshabhoomi, Nagpur, organised an Industrial Visit for M.Sc Biotechnology and Biochemistry semester I, II, III and IV students on 5th March, 2024, at the Biofertilizer production plant in Panjabrao Deshmukh Krishi Vidyapith (PDKV), Nagpur. The visit was planned with the prior approval and guidance of our principal, Dr. B. A. Mehere madam. The industrial visit was intended to improve the students' practical and industrial knowledge. As part of the UGC guidelines, colleges organise industrial visits within the framework of academic activities for the students to get aware and familiar with the industrial environment. The primary goal of the visit was to increase student awareness of practical skills and to develop an application-oriented attitude towards the subject, in which students understood the importance and applications of biotechnology and biochemistry for bio-fertilizer development and production.

During the visit, 39 students enthusiastically participated and were very curious while interacting with industry professionals. On the day of the visit, Dr. R.W. Ingle, HOD, Department of Plant Pathology, held a highly informative lecture to the students about microbial bio-fertilizer. Students were also given the opportunity to visit a research and development lab, where they got to see the actual process of bio-fertilizer development and production. Ultimately, the importance and practical significance of biotechnology and biochemistry courses in the context of bio-fertilizer development and applications became clear to the students.
