World Nature Conservation Day 2025

Organized by the Department of Botany, Dr. Ambedkar College, Deekshabhoomi, Nagpur

Date: 28th July 2025

The Department of Botany, Dr. Ambedkar College, Deekshabhoomi, Nagpur, organized a special program on the occasion of World Nature Conservation Day on 28th July 2025. The program aimed to create awareness among students and faculty about the importance of conserving nature and the sustainable use of natural resources for future generations.

The event was graced by the esteemed faculty of the Department of Botany, including Dr. Subhash Somkuwar, Dr. Rahul Kamble, and Prof. Labhesh Parteti. Their presence and guidance added great value to the program.

The program began with a welcome address by Dr. Rahul Kamble highlighting the significance of World Nature Conservation Day, which emphasizes the urgent need to preserve biodiversity and maintain ecological balance. Dr. Subhash Somkuwar addressed the gathering, stressing the role of students and youth in environmental protection through small but impactful actions such as tree plantation, water conservation, waste management, and adopting eco-friendly lifestyles.

Interactive discussions and awareness talks were conducted, where students actively participated and shared their views on protecting the environment. The program successfully conveyed the message that nature conservation is not just a responsibility but also a collective duty of every individual.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Prof. Labhesh Parteti, who appreciated the efforts of the faculty, staff, and students who contributed to the program's success.

Overall, the celebration of World Nature Conservation Day 2025 by the Department of Botany was both informative and inspiring, leaving a lasting impact on the participants to work towards a greener and healthier planet.
