International and state level success of Bhumija and Ira students of Dr. Ambedkar College

Bhumija Sandeep Agarwal and Ira Mangesh Pathak, students of Dr. Ambedkar College, Nagpur, have proudly brought laurels to the institution at various international and state-level forums. Their remarkable success has created a new chapter in the academic and cultural sphere of the college.

Bhumija Agarwal, B.Com. A second year student won the Gold Medal in the Queen's Commonwealth Essay Competition 2025 of the Royal Commonwealth Society, London. This achievement has enhanced the reputation of the college at the global level. Bhumija is a published author of the novel "We Met Last Summer", and the international recognition of her writing skills has given a great boost to the academic journey of the college. Apart from this, Bhumija also secured the first position in the story writing competition under the Youth Festival 2025-26 organized on 11th November 2025 in collaboration with the District Sports Office, Nagpur and the Ministry of Youth Affairs.

Bhumija said about this success, "This success belongs to my teachers, college and family. It is because of their support that I was able to reach this level today."

Similarly, Ira Mangesh Pathak, B.Com. A first year student once again brought the name of the college to the peak of respect with her effective and profound speech in the state level debate competition. In the 21st Maharashtra State Inter-University Youth Festival - Indradhanush 2025, Ira represented Ambedkar College in this debate competition organized at KBC North Maharashtra University, Jalgaon from 5th to 9th November. The important function of inaugurating the competition based on the theme "Vande Mataram 150" was done by Water Supply Minister Gulabrao Patil. In the presence of students from 26 universities, Ira played an excellent debating role, which became a topic of discussion.

Regarding Ira's success, she said, "The guidance of the college's Principal Dr. Deepa Panekar and Head of the Commerce Department Dr. D. H. Puttewar, Associate Professor Dr. Vaishali Fating was extremely helpful to me. It was only because of their support that I was able to participate in the competition with confidence."

The progress of these two students has given a new dimension to the academic environment of Dr. Ambedkar College. Their success has enhanced the prestige of the entire college. The inspiring work of successful students is creating a new definition of high standards in the academic and cultural fields of the college.

On behalf of the college, Principal Dr. Deepa Panekar congratulated Bhumija and Ira and wished that their success would be a role model for other students. Similarly, she expressed the hope that every student of the college would go ahead and achieve at least a little bit of this success.

This successful journey of Bhumija and Ira has created encouraging hopes for the future of the college.
